

Horses are like a box of chocolates

Evaluating your horses abilities, conformation, temperament and trainability.

Not all horses are created equal. Starting more BLM mustangs than anyone in America gives this horseman a unique insight into how the vast array of temperaments and abilities play into horse human relationships. Working with horses from the Hooved Animal Humane Society has again expanded the knowledge base to include abused ,neglected and rescued equines. Attend one of the clinics or come visit with him at booth 215 for any questions you would like answered.
